Talk and walk

My name is Brian and I'm twelve years old. My two big hobbies are Talking and Walking. I will tell you about both of them, let's start with Walking. I walk almost everyday because I like to see new places and walking also helps me keep fit. My friends do activities such as football, ice hockey, running, parkour and other stuff. But I think that it is boring. I want to walk. Luckily, I got my dog Harry. He is named after the famous book character Harry Potter. My dog is just so cute!

I also like to talk. You might think of me having a normal conversation when I tell you that, but I take it one step further. I like to have speeches and I am dreaming of working in the government one day. I always think of what I am going to say before I answer a question – even if I am just hanging out with my friends. But I can't have speeches all the time, so when I can't find people that wants to listen to me, I talk to my dog or write a newspaper debate article. I am actually priced for my debate articles!
